

Knowledge and Progression

We have developed our curriculum to ensure that we not only meet but exceed the requirements of the National Curriculum, providing our pupils with a knowledge-rich education to support their success as they move through our school and prepare for their next steps at secondary school.

Each subject is taught discretely to ensure a robust curriculum and fidelity to the specific skills and nuances of each discipline. This approach enables children to build subject-specific knowledge, skills and vocabulary progressively. Where appropriate, meaningful links are made across subjects, allowing children to gain a thorough understanding of topics through a broad range of curriculum areas.

Our curriculum is carefully structured with knowledge at its centre and organised through a cohesive, progressive approach so that knowledge builds over time and children understand how learning is connected.
