Ancient Egypt Social Class Structure

The pharaoh and those that were linked to religion were the most powerful in society. Pharaohs were believed to be gods in human form, and so they had power over everything. Skilled workers made up the middle classes. Those at the bottom had no power, and worked long hours for little return.

Significant Figures

Cleopatra

Cleopatra was the last pharaoh of Ancient Egypt, living between 69 BC and 30 BC. After her father's death, the throne was left to 18 year old Cleopatra and her 10 year old brother, Ptolemy, and the two were married. She quickly became the main ruler. It is believed that then, as ruler, she had all three of her siblings killed. She became a close ally of Julius Caesar of Rome, and had his baby. It is said that she could speak 7 languages.

Tutankhamun

Tutankhamun is often known as 'The Boy King', as he ruled from when he was 9 years old, and died when he was just 18 (between 1332 and 1323BC). His golden coffin was buried in the Valley of Kings, and was surrounded by around 5,000 priceless treasures.

Ramesses II

Ramesses II is often considered as the greatest, most powerful Egyptian pharaoh of all – later Egyptians often called him 'The Great Ancestor.' He led the Egyptians into many battles (which were almost always won), and constructed many temples and buildings. His queen, Nefertari, was famed for her beauty. Ramesses II lived until the age of 92, which was an exceptionally old age back in Ancient Egyptian times.

Howard Carter

Howard Carter was an English Archeologist and Egyptologist. He became world famous after the discovery of Tutankhamun's tomb in 1922. Lord Carnarvon used his fortune to fund
Carter's excavations in the Valley of the Kings.

Egyptian Gods

The ancient Egyptians worshipped many gods and goddesses (there were around 2000 in total!) Some of these looked very much like humans, whereas others were part human and part animal. Animals were chosen to represent the powers of the god. Ra was possibly the most important god. He was deemed to be the god of the sun and the lord of all of the other gods. He was often presented as having the head of a hawk. Another important god was Anubis, who was the god of the dead. Jackals were often seen in cemeteries, as it was believed that they were watching over the dead. So, Anubis was often shown with the head of a dog.

Egypt is located in the north eastern corner of Africa and has coastlines on the Mediterranean Sea and Red Sea.

Fun Fact!

The ancient Egyptians worshipped cats, so much so that their family pets were treated as royalty and when their cat died, they shaved their eyebrows as an act of mourning.

Meanwhile, elsewhere...

Stonehenge in Wiltshire, UK, was constructed at roughly the same time period as the Great Pyramid at Giza and the Sphinx.
